DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 2, 4, 5, 7-11, 13, 16-20, 22, 24, 25, and 27-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In regard to claims 5, 17, and 25, according to figure 5 of the present disclosure, there are TWO resonance configurations for partial load and TWO for full load depending on whether the engine speed is above or below the threshold speed. Both full and partial loads have two possible configurations. Therefore, the claims are incomplete and the third resonance configuration may NOT be the same as the first.

In regard to claims 10, 18, and 30, there is no antecedent basis in the specification for the fifth/sixth resonance configurations; because these limitations are newly added they appear to be new matter and must be cancelled. There is no antecedent basis for "fifth" and "sixth" in claims 11 and 31.

Note, it is somewhat verbose to set forth first, third ...configurations that would lead one to infer that they are different; and then to go on to say that they are the same. There are really just two configurations: open and closed!

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 2, 4, 5, 7, 8, 10, 13, 17-19, 22, 24, 25, 27, 28, and 30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kimura (JP 59-126028).

Art Unit: 3747

The figures show a tuning valve 5 responsive to speed and load (NOTE FIGURE 3). The valve being closed during high speed and load, and during low speed and load; this is identical to what the flow chart teaches in figure 5 of the present invention; therefore applicant's arguments are not persuasive. The threshold speed N_s is deemed inherently where efficiency is constant. There is a controller 10 responsive to sensors 11,12.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 11, 16, and 31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kimura as applied to claims 5, 17, and 25 above, and further in view of Rush (4549506), Wada (4793294), or Nomura et al (6722335). Kimura shows the tuning valve 5 being upstream of the two plenums 2. All of the secondary references show the tuning valve being located directly between the plenums; to do likewise in Kimura for a more compact arrangement would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 9, 20 and 29 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

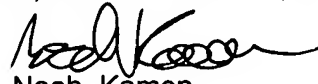

Art Unit: 3747

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
